How to save money, time, and headaches with the move to the Javits Center, a few points to note:

- It is now less expensive to ship your booth material and machinery directly to show site! Please review the Freeman Material Handling and Machinery Handling forms in the Freeman Manual to learn how best to ship material.
- Make sure to review the Javits Hand Carry Policy before you try and bring in your own material!
- The most important thing to remember about the Javits Center is—the more rules you follow, the less headaches you'll have!

Lastly, in the General Information section of this kit, there is a list of the contractors and service companies with whom Show Management has made arrangements to serve you. With the exception of electrical, cleaning, catering, drayage, rigging and security, you may use any other service vendor you wish. Where labor is concerned, or where any non-official vendor requires access to the show floor, other than deliveries to the loading dock, the exhibitor must register the vendor with Show Management in advance.
